

Keep track of every chazarah — one blatt at a time.

A free, mobile-first app for your Zichru chazarah. It has two separate tools — use either one on its own, or both together.

Track your numbers without a schedule · Build a schedule without tracking · or both — never locked together

TODAY'S PLAN

Berachos 12–22

Shabbos 47–57

Kiddushin 10–20

Log today's plan — one tap

Inside this guide

- 1 Build your chazarah schedule — a guided, step-by-step wizard
- 2 Two kinds of review — recurring & rotation
- 3 Log your learning and track your numbers
- 4 Your dashboard, completed Shas & the toolkit

Make every daf count.

לזיכוי הרבים

Build your chazarah schedule, one easy step at a time

No crowded forms. The wizard asks one plain question per screen, shows the result live, and nothing saves until you create it. Your schedule then repeats on its own — there's no end date to manage. The schedule is optional: if you just want to track your numbers, you can skip it entirely.

STEP 1

Set your recurring reviews

Pick masechtos to review on a repeating schedule — weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly. Best for recent masechtos, or any you're working to retain or regain.

- ☒ Berachos — Weekly
- ☒ Shabbos — Bi-weekly
- ☒ Eruvin — Monthly

STEP 2

Add a continuous rotation

Maintenance mode for masechtos you already know well. Set a blatt per day pace and they cycle through continuously; when the cycle ends, it starts again.

20 blatt/day · full cycle ≈ 7 days

Yoma

Sukkah

STEP 3

Review & create

See the next 7 days generated live, pick any start date, and create. Either step can be skipped — build with just recurring reviews, just a rotation, or both.

5 masechtos · ≈ 44 blatt/day · repeating

Create schedule

What the builder gives you

- One question per screen, with a clean Back that keeps every choice you've made.
- Live preview: masechtos, blatt-per-day, and rotation cycle-length update as you choose.
- Pick any start date — every day is shown with civil and Hebrew dates.
- A masechta lives in exactly one place — on a recurring schedule, or in the rotation, never both.
- Recurring options: weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly — rarer reviews go in the rotation.
- Edit or replace your active schedule anytime from the Schedule tab.

Two kinds of review — recurring & rotation

Every masechta you add sits in one of two buckets. The app weaves both into a single day-by-day plan.

Recurring — comes back on a set schedule

Day 1 · Jun 11	Ber 2–10	Shab 2–13
	Eruv 2–5
Day 2 · Jun 12	Ber 11–19	Shab 14–25
	Eruv 6–9
Day 3 · Jun 13	Ber 20–28	Shab 26–36
	Eruv 10–13
Day 4 · Jun 14	Ber 29–37	Shab 37–47
	Eruv 14–17
Day 5 · Jun 15	Ber 38–46	Shab 48–58
	Eruv 18–21

Weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly — each masechta returns on its own period, advancing a little each day. Best for recent material or anything you're keeping fresh.

Rotation — cycles continuously

Day 1 · Jun 11	Yoma 2–21
Day 2 · Jun 12	Yoma 22–41
Day 3 · Jun 13	Yoma 42–61
Day 4 · Jun 14	Yoma 62–81
Day 5 · Jun 15	Yoma 82–88
	Sukkah 2–14

One steady pace works through everything you know well, in order; when the cycle ends it starts again. Here: 20 blatt/day · full cycle ≈ 7 days.

Your full schedule, always in view

Print / Save as PDF

Open the Schedule tab and your active plan is right there: what you're reviewing, the pace, and the next 7 days — each with civil and Hebrew dates. One link opens the full day-by-day calendar, with a printer button to print or save it as a PDF.

Sun 14 כ"ט סיון Yoma 2–21 20 bl.	Mon 15 ל' סיון Yoma 22–41 20 bl.	Tue 16 א' תמוז Yoma 42–61 20 bl.	Wed 17 ב' תמוז Yoma 62–81 20 bl.	Thu 18 ג' תמוז Yoma 82 · Suk 20 bl.	Fri 19 ד' תמוז Sukkah 15–34 20 bl.	Shab 20 ה' תמוז Sukkah 35–54 20 bl.
---	---	---	---	--	---	--

However you set it up, your schedule is a guide, not a gate — you can always log anything, scheduled or not.

Log in seconds. Watch your numbers grow.

Logging is the heartbeat of the tracker — and it never gets in your way. The dashboard turns every log into your own growing record. You don't need a schedule for any of this — log anything, anytime.

One-tap logging

Log today's plan

Your scheduled dapim for today, logged in one tap.

Log anything else...

Off-schedule learning counts too. Pick any masechta and daf range — the app validates it against real daf numbers.

Chazering a daf twice counts twice — honest review-counts.

Your dashboard

EXAMPLE

Today 52	This week 196	This month 540
Last 7 days 341	Last 30 days 1,460	All time 16,650

Last 30 days

Six windows — today, this week, this month, rolling 7- and 30-day, and all time — plus a 30-day chart, so your momentum is always visible.

ON THE DASHBOARD

The Completed tab — masechtos finished, cover to cover

Every full finish is counted. For example:

Berachos · 63 blatt 6× complete	Eruvin · 104 blatt 3× complete
Taanis · 30 blatt 6× complete	Kesubos · 111 blatt 3× complete
Megillah · 31 blatt 6× complete	Kiddushin · 81 blatt 3× complete

GOOD TO KNOW

The rest of the toolkit

The practical bits that keep it smooth, day to day.

Sign in, no password

A magic link by email (or Google) signs you in on any device.

Made for your phone

Mobile-first, installable to your home screen — build, log, and check your count on the go.

Hebrew + English dates

Every schedule day carries both calendars, side by side.

Print your schedule

The full day-by-day calendar prints or saves as a clean PDF.

Honest numbers

Every daf you log is checked against the real daf numbers for that masechta — so your count is always accurate.

Period-based stats

Today, this week, this month, plus rolling 7- and 30-day windows keep momentum visible.

Every blatt you log also joins a live, all-time community total on the home page. לזיכוי הרבים

Make every daf count.

Get started — it's free

zichruchazarah.com